

The Most Unlikely People

VERSE 1

Moses said, God you know, I'm a man who's slow to speak
The calling was so clear, and though his faith was weak
Still he was the very one, that God had plans to use
We've seen throughout the ages, He always seems to choose

CHORUS

The most unlikely people, to do the most amazing things
Fishermen do miracles, and shepherds become kings
I love the way that God, uses those who seem to be
The most unlikely people, like you, like me

Verse 2

It's a book of countless stories, of how God seems to love
The lost, the least, and those this world thinks so little of
The overlooked and outcast, those forgotten among men
Just like the very ones, the Savior drew so close to Him

BRIDGE

We are messengers of mercy, and vessels of his grace
He uses ordinary lives, in extraordinary ways
